

AUTO LICENSES TO ADVERTISE ANTIOCH IN '33

Paper Stickers to Replace
Metal Tags, Board
Decreases

COST IS LESS,
MURRIE SAYS

Sticker licenses for Antioch automobiles in 1933 in place of the more expensive metal tags heretofore used, were adopted Tuesday night at the January meeting of the village board.

"No matter which it is, the sticker, some one is bound to be dissatisfied," was the comment of board members following the decision to use the stickers this year.

Two outstanding advantages of the sticker type of license make it obviously the more desirable, according to board members, who pointed out that first, the stickers can be purchased at about half the cost of the metal tags. Village Clerk Roy Murrie estimates that the switch to the sticker license will save the village about $50.

Has Advertising Value
A second salient feature which came in for favorable consideration is that the sticker, this year will be used for advertising Antioch's position in the lake region. No extra charge will be made for having the slogan, "Hub of the Lake Region," printed on the sticker, Murrie stated, and with every car carrying it, the slogan will be read by hundreds of towns and in many states.

Village licenses expire at the close of the fiscal year, April 30, when the new 1933 stickers will have to adorn all Antioch cars and trucks. Last year the fee for vehicle license was reduced from five dollars to four dollars.

While the action on village matters was confined largely to routine business that evening, several major questions were brought up for discussion, including the discontinuance of all night lighting on Main Street as an economy measure.

Barred from Postal Investment
A report was made at the meeting that the $2,000 surplus in the water department fund remains in deposit since the Postoffice could not accept it for postal bonds. It was voted at December's meeting to invest the money in four bonds, but a ruling of the United States Postal department bars corporations as investors.

The proposal to invest the money was dropped after some discussion of buying liberty bonds which are selling at present above par value.

Turning off Lights
Darkening of all street lights at twelve-thirty, including the ten which are now left lighted until daylight, was suggested as a means of economy. Action was deferred until definite information is obtained on the saving which will be made.

Charles Thorne appeared before the board to ask the body's consent to the removal of his property, listed as lot 87, located beyond the railroad tracks. Permission was granted Mr. Thorne to have the property changed on the assessor's books since it is farm land.

Authority was given Clerk Roy Murrie to have the sewer maps returned to there will be a permanent record. The water committee reported that cold weather has prevented the removal of the hydrants authorized at last month's meeting.

WEBER CHARGES FRAUD IN CONGRESS CONTEST

Files Notice That He Will Fight Seating of Simpson
as Representative

Charging fraud, intimidation, misstatements, coercion, illegalities, and irregularities, Charles H. Weber has filed notice on James Simpson, Jr., and with the clerk of the House of Representatives at Washington that he will contest the seating of Simpson as the member of the House of Representatives in the 10th Congressional District of Illinois. Ralph E. Church, the other candidate in this three-cornered race, is made a party to the contest.

Weber charges that James Simpson, Sr., utility operator and prominent Chicago civic leader, used large sums of money in an effort to nominate and elect his son.

Enter Judge Lynch
The primary contest last April developed into a battle for the republican nomination between Ralph E. Church of Evanston, the winner in the primary by 73 votes and Simpson, of Wadsworth. In the recent proceedings before Circuit Court Judge Thomas J. Lynch, Simpson was declared the Republican nominee. Church was entered by a group of Evanston citizens as an independent candidate. Weber was the Democrat.

In this normally strong Republican district Weber was acclaimed the winner on the face of the returns by about 1700 votes. Mr. Simpson engaged an attorney and the state canvassing board found Simpson to be the winner by 1222 votes. The official vote of this canvassing board was: Simpson 101,449, and Church 45,067.

The 10th Congressional district starts at North Avenue in Chicago

ANTIOCH IS COMMENDED

A short time ago an out of town caller stopped in The News office and in the course of his conversation remarked on the obvious feeling of friendship and co-operation which exists among Antioch merchants. He spoke of this spirit as being unusual in these days of competition.

Proximity is often a disadvantage in gaining a clear view. We lose sight of the general effect in taking in too many of the details. So, it takes a stranger to point out to us the readiness of Antioch merchants to refer customers they can't accommodate to the business house, or houses, in town which can accommodate him.

This observing stranger called at Williams Brothers for a hunting cap, and failing to find what he wanted there, was referred to Wallace Clothing Store, Otto Klass and Chase Webb. This type of service is helpful not only to fellow merchants but to the customer and should be fostered.

DISCONTINUING ALL NIGHT LIGHTS

Saving in power consumed, which is most readily done by cutting off the all-night lighting service, has been initiated by a number of villages along the north shore as an economy measure this winter.

Falling in line with this movement, Antioch's village trustees discussed this measure at the board meeting this week, but held it over for further action. Fear that the board will be financially pinched before spring was considered sufficient reason for giving the matter thought.

The value of the protection from street lights to business houses and persons who may be on the street is undeniable. To forego this protection, a compensating saving would have to be made to make the sacrifice worthwhile.

The board has under discussion the discontinuance of only those street lamps which burn from dusk until dawn in the business district. Out of a total of 73 street lamps in the corporation, sixty-three burn from dusk until twelve-thirty. The other ten remain lighted until daylight.

After twelve o'clock at night, as was mentioned by members of the board, there are few persons on the street, but safe-guards are as a rule, intended as protection to exceptions.

Laying aside the benefits of all-night lighting, and turning to the saving which would be effected by the discontinuance, in the month of December, the cost of power for eight of the lamps kept throughout the night, was $18.08. The cost for the other two averaged slightly more per lamp. Assuming that one half this cost would be prevented by turning the lamps out at twelve-thirty, the saving on the eight would average around $9.00, probably less since the nights will grow shorter.

The measure has been considered largely as a saving to be made during the winter months. The discontinuance, if it goes into effect, cannot possibly be ruled before February which would make it effective for that month. Considering the proposal in all its aspects, it seems hardly feasible.

Mrs. Charles Peters entertained her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Heftner, and her sister's family, Mr. and Mrs. Eberlein and son from Glencoe, on Monday.

VAST INCREASE IN MOTORING COMFORT ACHIEVED BY FISHER

New Ventilation System
Called Biggest Advance
Since Closed Bodies

Probably no motor car advancement since Fisher's introduction of closed bodies in 1910 has made such sweeping contributions to the safety and comfort of motoring as the new Fisher No-Draft Ventilation, developed for the new General Motors cars and presented to the public for the first time in the new Buick models for 1933, now on display.

The new Fisher ventilation system is a built-in feature. It is simple in construction and operation and employs no motors or other mechanical moving parts. Developed in accordance with the natural law that air pressure tends to equalize itself, the system not only utilizes the air currents set up by the motion of the car but furnishes a simple and positive means of directing these currents so that ventilation is achieved without drafts.

Air Currents Tamed

Instead of whistling into the car through partly opened windows and swirling about the back of rear-seat occupants' necks, air currents are now completely tamed. They are now drawn inward to replace spent air which the semi-vacuum in the wake of the car draws out, and their course, as well as their volume, is under control at all times.

The key to the system's effectiveness lies in the vertically-split windows. The rear section of these windows raises and lowers by means of a regulator, just as the entire window does on cars of the conventional type. The front section, however, is pivoted, top and bottom, and may be turned to any desired angle by means of the convenient regulator. Since the front windows of all the new Fisher closed bodies, and also the rear quarter windows of all the sedan models, are constructed with the split-section feature, it is possible to regulate ventilation to the individual comfort of everyone in the car, depending on the outside temperature and the direction and velocity of the wind. Persons desiring to smoke may do so without annoying others, for the ventilator instantly draws out smoke, along with spent air.

Year-Round Benefits

Even in coldest weather, the new Fisher ventilation system functions effectively with a complete absence of draft. This point is stressed from the standpoint of safety as well as that of comfort, for it means not only freedom from impaired driving vision, caused by the clouding of windows and windshield, but also peace of mind for persons susceptible to cold. It is never necessary to choose between the discomfort of riding in a drafty car and the actual danger of driving with vapor-obscured windows. Neither need ventilation be sacrificed when driving in stormy weather, for the system excludes rain and snow while permitting circulation of air.

Several features of special convenience are incidental to the new system. For one thing, the driver may keep his window lowered, as many prefer to do, and yet have the front section so set as to deflect the breeze and spare the other passengers the annoyance of draft. In warm weather, the front section may be turned clear around, so as to "scoop" into the car more air than has ever before been obtainable, thus creating a maximum breeze.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"God" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 1.

The Golden Text was, "Praise waiteth for thee, O God, in Zion: and unto thee shall the vow be performed. O thou that hearest prayer, unto thee shall all flesh come" (Psalms 65:1, 2).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Serve the Lord with gladness: come before his presence with singing. Know ye that the Lord he is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture. Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise" (Psalms 100:2-4).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy:

"That God is a corporeal being, nobody can truly affirm. . . . Not materially but spiritually we know Him as divine Mind, as Life, Truth, and Love. We shall obey and adore in proportion as we apprehend the divine nature and love Him understandingly, warping no more over the corporeality, but rejoicing in the affluence of our God" (p. 140).

Grade School Plans Concert For Jan. 20

A concert to pay for the bass horn which was added to the Grade School orchestra last year will be presented at the school Friday, Jan. 20, by the band and choruses from the various grades.

This will be the second annual concert to be given by the grade school. Last year's entertainment was given with no charge for admission, but this year, in order to raise money for the horn, a ticket sale will be held.

Selections will be given that evening by the school's almost-forty-piece band, a girls' glee club made up of girls from the seventh and eighth grades, and mixed choruses from the sixth, fifth and fourth grades. The ticket sale will be placed in the hands of the pupils according to present plans.

"WORLD'S ALL RIGHT"

An old time square dance with the fiddle, guitar and harmonica are also featured in a Hill-Billy scene. Mr. Clarence Schultis will "Shanty in Old Shanty Town," as give a special interpretation of a story by Mrs. Larson, the old fashioned mother.

The girls' choruses will appear in long ruffled dresses with parasols in a contrasting shade as they give a delightful number called "In an Old Fashioned Garden."

Vested Choir

A vested choir will sing a number of anthems and other famous sacred songs. Rex C. Sims will be the special reader for this number. The members of the choir are: Mrs. H. B. Gaston, Marion Spangard, Mrs. Lux, Miss Huffendich, Miss Reta Hawkins, Miss Eleanor Meyers, Miss Cornelia Roberts, Mrs. Darbonne, Miss Fannie Westlake, Mrs. Frank Spangard, Miss Louise Simons, Miss Wilma Musch, Mr. Yates, Gordon Martin, Mr. Guy Ellis, Philip Bohl, Mr. Petty, Mr. Pollock and Mrs. Elmer Brook.

The High School Glee Club will be the Dixie Cotton Pickers. A High Brow number led by Mrs. A. Edgar as Gerlie Green, the Vamp of New Orleans, and Mr. Emmett Webb as Lovin' Sam, the Shik of Alabama.

Wilmot School Burns In Early Morning Fire

Building Inspector and Boards Lay Plans for Continuing School

Smith, Wisconsin building inspector, met Tuesday morning with the district and township school boards to make plans for accommodating the classes during the remainder of the school year.

Fire in the Union Free High School at Wilmot Grade School building was discovered by Fred Gauger, local blacksmith, a few minutes before five o'clock New Year's morning. At the same time he was reporting the fire by telephone. Mr. and Mrs. John Wirtz, who live across from the school building arrived at the telephone office to call for help. Residents who first arrived at the building, Fred Gauger, John Sutcliffe, and Lloyd Stoen report the fire was located at the south front of the building and the door glasses of the south door broken, open windows into the primary and graded rooms. Although the fire is of undetermined origin, a strong feeling that it was deliberately set prevails throughout the community.

According to plans made Tuesday morning, the gymnasium will be used temporarily for the classes. The stage will be partitioned off for a classroom, a class room made on the balcony, and a number of rooms will be built in the basement. Water will be piped into the gymnasium and windows added. Mr. Smith of the state department believed that putting up a building one-third again as large as the gymnasium, will accommodate the high school and grades. A meeting of district 9 will have to be called before it will be known whether the district will finance another township high school.

The Silver Lake Fire department was called at five and was on the job before ten minutes after five. Local men assisted and the Antioch fire department arrived at 22 minutes to six. The fire was then under control and their engine was not hooked up. Plenty of water to operate was obtainable from the water system in the gymnasium and that building was saved, though on fire several times. A farm house owned by Mrs. James Owen, occupied by Charles Fonk and the family of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Newell, across the street was in direct path of the flames but a row of high fir trees proved an efficient protection.

Erected in 1879

The original school building was erected in 1879 and three additions had been added to it. The building as it stood could not be replaced for $50,000. It was owned by District No. 9, $20,000 in insurance on the building and $2000 on equipment was carried.

Leased to High School

The building was owned by District No. 9 Graded School and leased at a rental of $750 a year to the High School Board. The lease still has a term of seven years to run. The gymnasium was a separate ten thousand dollar building raised from funds donated by the Women of the West Kenosha County Fair district and tax assessments on both the Graded and High School districts. Whether the buildings to be erected will again hold the combined schools or if they are to be erected separately is still to be decided.

High School Principal M. M. Schnurr who was spending the holidays with his family at Milwaukee returned early Sunday morning, and is busy making arrangements for the reopening of schools on January 9. High School enrollment is 108, Grades, 60.

Salvation Army Cards Mailed 13 In Antioch

Thirty-nine Contribute in Local Campaign of Which Petty Was Chairman

The Salvation Army Headquarters 719 North State Street, Chicago, Illinois.

According to information received from the Illinois Home Service Department Headquarters of The Salvation Army in Chicago, membership cards for the 1932 Home Service Appeal were mailed last week to 13 persons in Antioch, accompanied by a Christmas letter and a general brief covering the Army's activities during the fiscal year, ending September 30th, 1932.

The brief covering only the Chicago Territory, shows a tremendous increase over the same period of the year previous. It states that 4,697, 148 meals were served and 1,676,863 beds were provided homeless men in the five Army Shelters in Chicago. These men come from every county in the State and besides giving them food and lodging, and furnishing them with clothing and shoes, the Army has provided daily recreation and wholesome entertainment and has found employment for 5,840.

The Home Service Department does not publish statistics for each county, primarily because it does not desire to draw comparisons between the various counties which it serves and also because the amounts collected from the counties in the annual Home Service appeals would not warrant this additional expenditure.

Some idea of the state wide service is shown in one item alone: the figures for the maternity service in the Women's Home and Hospital. The report states 283 unwed mothers and 223 babies were cared for in Chicago, while the service for those outside of Cook County included 2,189 girls and 1,224 babies—a little less than 50 per cent of the girls were awaiting the birth of their babies when this report was compiled.

The Women's Division of the Salvation Army, composed of a number of society leaders in Chicago and North Shore towns, under the direction of Mrs. Chas. King Corsant, formerly of Highland Park, are attempting to devise ways and means to raise the deficit incurred by the tremendous increase of the Army's state wide service in order that there may be no let-down in the much needed aid to humanity in the various state wide departments and institutions.

All those who contributed $1.00 or more or who gave service in helping to collect the funds in Lake County Home Service Appeal received membership cards last week, and all contributors to the fund received the Christmas letter. The Army recognizes that service in helping to raise the funds is of equal importance to the funds contributed—it takes both to make the annual drives successful. cents was collected during the 1932 Lake Co. Home Service Appeal in Antioch. This amount was contributed by 39 persons, 13 of whom were issued 1932 membership cards. The Lake County Home Service Appeal Board is represented in this community by W. C. Petty, chairman, and George B. Bartlett, treasurer.

W. C. Petty, Antioch, is president of the Board. Sol A. St. Peter, Highland Park, vice president; Mrs. Agnes Tennerman, Deerfield, Secretary and F. M. Wogoman, Libertyville, Treasurer. The Salvation Army representatives on the Board include Commander in Chief Evangeline Booth, Commissioner A. W. McIntire, Territorial Commander, Staff Captain Lorin F. Corliss, Special Efforts Secretary, and Roy James Battis, Educational Director.

"Man—you look healthy!"

"No healthier than I feel!"

"Where did you get that tan? Florida?"

"No, Sir I've been right here at my desk six days a week. And working hard, too."

"What's your secret?"

"Sunshine every day I shave under one of those new ultra-violet ray lamps every morning. Doc Jordan told me about it. I haven't felt so fit in years."

"You don't say."

"It's a fact. The whole family uses it. Little Jimmie hasn't had a cold all fall—and you know what the weather's been. Ultra-violet rays seem to give you more resistance—help you fight off disease germs."

SUNSHINE—IN YOUR HOME—EVERY DAY

Science has made a wonderful new sun and moved it indoors. Wherever there is an electric outlet, a sunshine lamp can be plugged in your home. Its ultra-violet rays contain all the beneficial qualities of real summer sunshine. Men can expose themselves every morning while shaving. Women can relax with a book. (Short treatments will not tan the skin.) Children can play on the floor and every minute spent under the lamp their bodies will be drinking up sunshine. Goggles need not be worn. Ask your doctor about the value of regular sun baths in building up resistance to colds. And see these sun lamps now featured at your Public Service Store:

HintsLeisure Can Be Found In Oven
By Woman Who Bakes Her DinnersBaked Dishes Add Variety
as Well as Saving
Effort

Baked dinners are the salvation of the woman who longs for free afternoons for calls or bridge or just staying at home to leisurely read or sew. Many women who bemoan cutting short an afternoon to rush home and get the evening meal on the table, entirely neglect baked dinners.

To profit most from serving this type of meal, the cook should prepare the food ready for the oven as she washes the dishes from the noon meal, and even partially set her table.

The only difficulty that the baked dinner presents for the woman who is to be gone the entire afternoon is the selection of foods which will require an equal time to bake, and also the choice of dishes which can be baked for a long period in a slow oven. Sometimes a schoolgirl daughter who is old enough to light the oven and put in another dish, or a friendly next door neighbor will help solve the problem.

Bake for Next Day's Meal
Utilizing the oven to the fullest extent requires thought and planning not only for the meal in question, but the following day's meal. Baked apples are an obvious suggestion, but perhaps they don't fit into your menu. In that case, bake them for the next day's breakfast or lunch. A pie shell baked for the next day is always an aid when that next day comes and it can easily be filled and served. A simple filling for a pie shell which will be popular with the children and which takes only a moment's time is sliced bananas topped with whipped cream.

Meats for baked dinners can be varied and made either simple or elaborate. Meats prepared the oven way are usually cheaper meats, and often more appetizing than those which are fried. Meat loaves, thick round steaks, roasts and even pork chops, veal chops and the meats one usually fries, are eligible for baked dinner.

Pork Chops in Wild Rice
If your family is fond of pork chops and tomatoes, try tempting them with pork chops baked in a mixture of wild rice and tomato. This combination makes a delicious luncheon dish. The rice is boiled, not until tender, but until it has slightly softened, then placed in a casserole in layers, with the pork chops between the layers. As much tomato can be added as the cook desires, but there should be enough to give the rice some moisture besides the fat from the chops. This is a long time dish since it must be cooked until the chops are done through.

Veal chops, rolled in flour and wound with strips of bacon, then browned with butter on top of the stove before a shallow cover of water is added and they are placed in a slow oven for a long baking, are deliciously tender.

Chop Suey for Scraps
Meat scraps can easily be dressed up for serving when used in baked dish combinations. American Chop Suey, a favorite with most children, is made of macaroni or spaghetti, a silver of onion for flavoring, ground meat scraps, and strained or plain tomatoes.

A box of macaroni requires about three cups of juicy, cooked tomatoes. The macaroni should be cooked first then placed in a casserole. If there are no meat scraps, ground round steak may be used, but it must be first fried until almost done. This is a short time dish requiring only about an hour in the oven, and if the meat is well cooked, a half hour will do, although it will not brown across the top in that time. Cheese or left over gravy may also be added for flavoring. If rice is preferred it can be substituted for the macaroni.

Sausages Hidden in Dressing
A good dish for a cold day when the children have been ailing, or perhaps you've been out of doors yourself, is pork sausage baked in a casserole of dressing, such as you make for stuffing fowls. The sausages should be scattered about through the dressing. Baked apples combine well with this dish.

Baking round steak with tomato, potato, peas, and carrots makes an entire meal of one dish. A one dish meal can also be made by adding noodles and tomato to the meat being baked.

In homes where ham is popular, a thick slice baked in a shallow pan (a frying pan will do) and covered with milk and sliced raw potatoes

Chutneys Are Easy-
To-Prepare Relishes

Recipes for chutneys, which are sour-sweet relishes, were frequently printed in papers of fifteen years ago. These recipes are old enough for some of us to have forgotten them and for others of us never to have seen them, and are easy to prepare.

A recipe which can be easily prepared now is named Royal Chutney. Take four pounds of peeled, cored and sliced apples, two pounds of sugar, one and one-half pounds of stoned and chopped raisins, two ounces of bruised mustard seeds, one ounce of powdered ginger, one ounce of salt, one ounce of red pepper and three pints of vinegar. Put this all in a stone jar and stand the jar in a pan of hot water. Let it simmer slowly for eight hours. Bottle when cold and keep in a cold dry place.

For those who care for quince there is the recipe for Sambal, Malay Chutney. Peel and quarter three quinces, not wholly ripe, add one onion, pepper, salt and a green chili pepper, put all through the meat grinder and serve with a roast.

English Chutney is an excellent recipe to save for the tomato season. Chop a half pound of ripe tomatoes, add a teaspoonful of salt and mix. Chop a pound of tart apples, twelve small onions, add one and one-half cups of seeded raisins, three large green peppers and half a cupful of vinegar with two cupfuls of sugar, a teaspoonful of salt mixed with two teaspoonfuls of dry mustard, cool the vinegar and stir in all the other ingredients, stirring occasionally. After ten days the chutney will be ready to use and will keep indefinitely.

For baking, will prove an excellent dish to serve.

Hot Breads
If there is time, hot breads, muffins, gingerbread, date pudding or upside down cake can be baked as a complement to your meal. Cooks who make upside down cake should remember that a variety of fruits may be used. Dried apricots which have been soaked first in water, or dried peaches treated the same way, sliced apples, and pineapple are the most adaptable.

Baked meals may require earlier planning than other meals, but they require less effort, obviate this last minute hurrying and they are often oases among fried dinners.

3/4 teaspoon grated orange rind

To Prevent Burning

When baking muffins or cup cakes, if one mold of the muffin tin is filled with water instead of batter, the muffins or cakes will not burn or stick to the pan.

Kerosene will clean the washbowl and tub in your bathroom and leave them with a glossy look. It can also be used for cleaning painted light colored walls and will not injure the finish.

Custard Suggestion

When making egg custard pies, always heat the milk to the boiling point before mixing with the eggs. If this rule is followed the undercrust will always be crisp.

Science Stamps Carbonated Beverages
As a Real Aid to Vivacity and PepColgate Investigators Reveal Results of Laboratory Tests

CLEVELAND, Ohio.—A close parallel between the average American pep and vivacity and the annual consumption of carbonated beverages, was drawn by Dr. Donald A. Laird, Director of the Colgate University Psychological Laboratory in an address before the annual convention of the American Bottlers of Carbonated Beverages Association.

His statements were based on results obtained during six years of experimenting in the Colgate Laboratories to discover the effect of certain foods and beverages on work power and personality.

DR. DONALD A. LAIRD

Some of the groups were given drinks sweetened with ordinary cane sugar while others were given drinks flavored with saccharine. The taste is about the same but the saccharine has no energy or food value.

In every case, the students who had the sugar were able to recover from muscular fatigue much more rapidly than the others. Muscular and mental coordination were also benefited by the sugar sweetened drink.

"Tired workers" Dr. Laird said, "are usually poor and erratic workers. The most efficient stenographer will make mistakes when laboring under muscular and mental fatigue. This condition reaches its peak about 4 P.M., a time of the day when office demands are greatest."

age because she is doing them a real favor. They might do well to follow her example because a sweetened drink, taken at this time of the day will go a long way toward restoring work power and relieving muscular tension produced by fatigue."

The increasing amount of carbonated beverages consumed by the American people, Dr. Laird believes, has aided in obtaining for this country the reputation of being a nation of "go-getters."

"In the case of the United States," he said, "we may find some parallel between the general hustle activity and pep and the increase in the consumption of carbonated beverages such as are palatably supplied by most sparkling beverages."

Aid to Digestion
Commenting on the value of a sweetened drink, taken about one hour after dinner, Dr. Laird described a series of complicated tests during which the flow of gastric juices was measured at various stages of the meal. It was found, he said, that the flow reached its peak midway through the meal and almost disappeared at its conclusion. Salt, sour, sweet and bitter tastes were tried in an effort to restore the flow of gastric juice and of these four, the sweet taste was by far the most effective.

GRANT OPENS AFTER TEN DAY VACATION

Commercial Contest Was Held Before Vacation—Awards Made

After a ten day vacation the student body convened on Tuesday for a new year of work. Many of those who had been ill preceding the holidays were back and ready for work.

The students of the high school were entertained on Tuesday morning by Mr. Pickering, who gave an illustrated lecture on the natural beauty of the Yellowstone National Park. One hundred sixty colored slides were shown, and the lecture proved to be very interesting.

A commercial meet was held in the high school auditorium Wednesday, Dec. 22. A contest in bookkeeping, typing, and shorthand were held in the afternoon. In the evening there was a special program at which time awards were given. The results of the meet were the following:

In the first period class of first year typing Harriet Stanton placed first with a net rate of forty-three words per minute for fifteen minutes. Helen Elter and Ruth Stafford placed second and third respectively. In the second period class Elizabeth Valenta placed first, Dale Johnson, second, and Dorothy Driver, third. In the advanced group Alzada Meyers won first honors with a speed of fifty-seven words per minute. Floy Walt placed second, and Iona Page third. The accuracy award was given to Iona Page, who wrote for fifteen minutes with only three errors.

In the First year shorthand contest Iona Page placed first; Harriet Stanton, second; and Jennie Martinez, third. In the advanced shorthand class Floy Walt won first honors; Kathryn Dankelman, second; and Mary Lutz, third.

Lillian Steidron placed first in the bookkeeping contest; Jessie Walt placed second, and Lillian Cragg and Ronald Paddock tied for third place.

Last Thursday, the Grant Cagers were defeated by Woodstock's basketball team, 44-17. A decisive factor in the game was Woodstock's superior height, their team averaging well over six feet. The outstanding players in the game were Pace and Knell for Woodstock, and Watson for Grant. The passing attack of the Grant boys was off form, and their shooting was ineffective.

An accuracy tournament was begun Tuesday in the typing classes. Each student was required to take a fifteen minute test, after which the members of the group were arranged in pairs according to their speed and accuracy. At the close of the tournament grade awards will be given.

Friday, Jan. 6, the Grant Cagers expect a visit from the Marengo quintette. This will be Grant's first meeting with Marengo, and it is expected that the game will be a most interesting one.

Members of the sophomore English class have recently completed the study of versification and poetry. Each student submitted an original poem of sixteen lines or more. Of the poems submitted, that of Miss Dorothy Sebastian probably showed greatest skill. The poem in its original form appears below.

My Chair
Have you ever had dreams, I don't mean by night,
But the dreams that come by day,
And have you a corner, or a chair,
In which to tuck those dreams away?

Now I have a dream castle corner
Where come those dreams so rare,
And then I met in my fancy
A most comfortable dream corner chair.

It boasts not of upholstery that's priceless,
Or to have stood in the castles of kings,
But it boasts of the comfort it gives
While its rockers a lullaby sing.

It's a friend, yet in fancy I take it
When in my corner forever to stay,
And when in its arms my book and I meet
All worldly troubles float gently away.

For there in my dream castle corner,
While the restless old world rolls by,
At least three of us are content:
My chair, my book, and I.

WEBER

and takes in all or part of the 41st, 43rd, 44th, 45th, 46th, 47th, 48th, 49th, and 50th wards in Chicago, the entire city of Evanston and the towns of New Trier, Northfield and Niles in Cook county and all of Lake county. It is said the population of the district is close to 600,000 people. The total vote cast in this district in the last general election was 283,521.

Asks Vote to Be Purged
Weber asks Congress to purge the entire vote of Zion, where he alleges Overseer Wilbur Glenn Voliva and political henchmen overstepped the election laws in their endeavors to favor the Republican party in the election.

Wilbur Glenn Voliva for years has been a political thorn in elections and primaries and it is expected that the Weber-Simpson-Church contest will open up the methods that have prevailed in Zion. Weber charges Voliva has autocratic powers and that his influences are divided ecclesiastical, industrial and political. Weber, in his notice of contest, on Voliva, says: "Under the ecclesiastical section he exercises control over the Catholic Christian Apostolic Church, under the title of general overseer and he first dominates the church and controls it absolutely. The power of Voliva is further strengthened by the fact that the factories, banks, stores, and industries are owned by him personally under the title Zion Industries and Institutions. By controlling their employment wage, the banks and stores, he of course, exercises complete power over these individuals. Being an overseer of the church and in control of their means of livelihood, a place to live, his political power is autocratic."

Voliva Speaks
Voliva, knowing that the winning democrats would investigate the Zion methods of Republican support, anticipated the action of Weber by saying from his pulpit in Zion tabernacle: "There has been a lot of piffle and tommy-rot uttered by fools that they are going to investigate the Zion vote. I would not want any better opportunity than that to tell why I didn't support the Democratic Party. I never had any use for the Democratic party and I haven't any now. I will find out whether Rome runs the Democratic party and why the Pope was so delighted over the election of Roosevelt. We'll find out why the Roman Catholics of Boston voted as they did. We'll find out whether the Pope of Rome is running this country or not. Rome is going to get in this country just what she got in Mexico and in Spain."

In addition to Zion, the Evanston vote is under fire. The Weber notice of Contest lays stress on the Republican City Council of Evanston report criticizing 41 out of the 53 Evanston precincts for the way the election material was handled and reports made out. Numerous specific irregularities, which, it is claimed, deprived Weber of votes is cited in the petition as occurring in various Chicago wards, in Lake county and the fashionable north shore cities of the district.

Recalls Frank Smith Case
Simpson under the United States Code has 30 days to answer Weber's petition, then the Weber forces have 40 days to take testimony, open ballot boxes and examine election paraphernalia before their commissioners. The next 40 days is allotted by the government for Simpson to do likewise. Then 10 days is allotted to Weber for rebuttal. All testimony is sent by both sides to the clerk of the House of Representatives who prints the testimony so the entire Congress has the facts. Congress will now decide who is to be seated in the 73rd Congress when it convenes. Simpson reported to be a multi-millionaire is to be the center figure, it is said, in a Congress battle that will parallel the Frank Smith for Congress case, having many connections that were closely allied to this already famous battle that prevented Smith taking his senatorial seat.
